

MACHINE WITHOUT HORSES

Royal Scottish Country Dance Society—Detroit Branch

February 2014

We Michiganders are looking forward to spring, with its warmer weather (we hope) and easier travel conditions. (Our Canadian friends probably take winter more in stride than we do.) In the meantime, we look back to a few of our previous celebrations, and we look forward to our annual Border Cities Workshop, held in Windsor this year.

The Roseville Red Hackles celebrated the 90th Anniversary of the Scottish Dance Society (it became Royal later) on 26 November 2013.

We welcome suggestions, corrections, and ideas about Scotland and Scottish Country Dancing for the Newsletter.
